Singapore, February 4, 2025 – Ocean Network Express (“ONE”) and LX Pantos are pleased to announce the successful completion of their joint venture, Boxlinks LLC (“Boxlinks”).

This strategic partnership will leverage the combined strengths of ONE and LX Pantos to provide end-to-end domestic intermodal transportation services, utilizing both companies’ partnerships with major rail carriers and trucking companies to provide efficient and timely delivery of cargo in the United States.

Hiroki Tsujii, Global Chief Officer - Head of Product & Network at ONE, commented, “Through Boxlinks, we are transforming how we deliver value in the United States. We will build a more resilient and agile inland network that will benefit our customers in the domestic market.”

Boxlinks will provide customized service to customers in the United States at competitive prices, leveraging access to an expanded equipment pool. Customers can utilize containers through Boxlinks for their inland-to-coastal transportation needs, optimizing efficiency across the supply chain.
