

Road Disruptions in Sindh 25.04.2025

Dear Valued Customers and Partners,

Last night, it was announced that both parties had reached an agreement and the protest would soon come to an end.

However, we have just received an update indicating that a full agreement has not yet been finalized, and the protest is still ongoing in some areas, as a result, the situation has not returned to normal.

While it is expected that both parties will reach a full resolution soon, please note that vehicles have been stuck for several days, and it may still take some time before operations are fully back to normal.

We appreciate your understanding and patience during this time, and we will continue to keep you updated as the situation develops.

Regards
